World Nature Conservation Day

World Nature Conservation Day is observed all over the world on July 28 of every year. It is observed to create awareness about protecting and conserving natural resources. There are so many threats to nature like deforestation, illegal wildlife trade, pollution using plastics, chemicals, and a lot more. A healthy environment must be created to safeguard the present and future generations. Nature gives basic necessities to live like water, air, soil, minerals, trees, animals, food, so it is required that we keep our nature clean and healthy. Some of the ways in which the common man can help in the conservation of nature is by planting trees, restricting the use of paper, stopping wastage of water and electricity, stopping all practices such as hunting of animals, and employing rain water harvesting systems. Encouraging planting of trees to avoid soil erosion and promote greenery. Practice home gardening, when possible. Not everyone has a green thumb, but spending time amidst nature promotes mental well-being too. Waste management: REDUCE REUSE AND RECYCLE WASTE. On World Nature Conservation Day, let us make a conscious effort to conserve our MOTHER EARTH.
